His Campaign for Mayoralty Really Opened Yesterday in the City Hall and at City Club Dinner.

Calls Party in Power to Account for Sponsorship of : Ramapo Water Contract, and Rebukes the Mayor.

Declares He Will Do All Possible to Bring About Municipal Ownership of All Public; Franchises.

Comptroller Coler's admirers predict that he will be the next Mayor of Greater New York. He may be said to have started his campaign yesterday with two terrific blows in the solar plexi of his enemies.

The first crack hit Mayor Van Wyck, and served to still further accentuate the armed neutrality which it is said now exists between these two important functionaries of the city government.

the Comptroller's anxiety for tunnels was stimulated by interest in the Long Island by declaring tartly that the city had no money to build tunnels.

tunnels be built, but also that the means to build them would surely be forthcoming. "This administration," said Mr. Coler. the Hamapo grab) to grivate individuals.

This may seem radical, but it has got to come. There is a sentiment tending this way throughout the country, and I'll help it all I can." (Great applause.)

"Is Ramapo dead?" cried one of the members. "That depends," said Mr. Coler, "upon how the courts rule, but so far as a came to my house and said that she had am conserned the scheme is dead until they change the charter which requires a unanimous vote of the Board of Kistimates and Appointment to pass an appropriation for the scheme."

Mr. Coler said that expenses of condemnation proceedings were absurdly high, and had been appearance.

"I laughed. 'Why, you're not strong enough,' I returned. 'Oh, but I am,' she responded. I looked her over again. I was labeled by a jury. "This method," said he, "would ube a good deal more effective than the removal of any two or three men you can think of."

"Have you any references?' I asked.

Classification of Debt.

Mr. Coler took the broad ground that debts incurred for public benefits that yield a revenue should be separated from those created for the general welfare. In other words, he declared that a debt that is not a charge upon the taxpayers should not be included in those charged against the barrowing capacity of the city. He held that when the city invests money in an enterprise that yields a profit upon the investment there is no sound business reasen why that should be included with ordinary liabilities.

"Have you any references?" I asked. Newark yesterday as counsel for Oliver Harrison in She showed me one from a 'Mrs. Miller, of Twenty-third street."

"It wasn't definite. It simply said nice things about her. "When do you want to go to work?" I said, with a smile. 'Right away,' she answered. She wore a cappe. From under it she drew an apron. 'I have taken care of sixteen rooms,' she volunteered.

"Well, I put her to work. At half-past ten o'clock I went out. I was back an hour was back an hour hard hard with out of hard library liabilities.

"At the present time." said Mr. Coler. The new girl was gone. She had told one of my other servants that she had to his predictive even more rapidly than the extreme the clip will of the entire the public trassiny a large revenue.

Money in Dook Property.

"Tae same condition of affairs exists in connection with the dock property owned by the clip." The present and the clip should own the entire water front, and should have released on ball when we got here, but any the power to admit the house when she was arrested was a silver fruit knife and mit plek combined. Therefore I deem it of they we could raise the power, as if has the financial ability, to construct the greatest system of docks in the swind. If we had constitutional power to acquire at one time every foot of my foot in the clip, we could raise the power, as if has the financial ability, to co

"The city is about to undertake another approvement which I believe will ultitately be even more profitable than docks water works. That is an underground pid transit railroad. Fortunately, multiplated ownership is provided for in the act therizing the building of this road, and an promises to be the most valuable suchise ever owned by any city cannot taken away from the people. But the st of the underground road is to be arged against our borrowing capacity, though it is expressly provided that the attractor shall pay to the city a revenue ual to the interest on the bonds and I reen in addition to provide a sinking and.

Must Develop Franchises.

"If the Greater New York is to attain a possition of commercial supremecy to hitch its natural advantages entitle it. if is to become a compact and harmonious and wearing a tailor-made suit, when a which his patural advantages entitle it. If the to become a compact and harmonious whole, utilizing to the utmost its vast whole, utilizing to the utmost its vast wealth and unlimited credit for the benefit of its cltizens, it must not be bound by a constitutional provision that antedates to sconception and limits without reason its powers of developing. Of what use is a valuable franchise or a great public property if we have not power to develop it for the general good?"

Speeches were also made by F. C. Moore, of the Board of Fire Underwriters, who said he would rather pay $2 to the city for his water than $1 to a private corporation like Ramapo: Dr. Herman Biggs, of the Health Department, and Professor Frank Doodnow.

Mrs. Winnien Silverman, a sister of Mrs. Schiffnan, als ocame into the restaurant. She recognized the dress as one which her sister had lost on November 27. On that day Mrs. Schiffnan had engaged as a servant this Mary Helnz, who had disappeared after an hour of service.

Mrs. Schiffnan had gone out, leaving her home in charge of Mary. A six-year-old daughter told Mrs. Schiffnan on her return that Mary had gone away after putting some jewelry in her pockets and throwing some clothes out of the window. When the Brooklyn detectives. Becker and Mitchell, went to No. 390 Linden street to search the premises they found in the reliar a large cardboard box in which were

A special attack was made yesterday on Brooklyn Rapid Transit. It was selected as a sort of target for the fire of the bears. It started at 78 and was forced rapidly down to 76%. Then with surprising elasticity it rose again to 80% and closed at 7936.
